SECTION E: COMPREHENSION (10 x 1m = 10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

I was doing my homework when I heard raised voices. At first, I thought it was the customers in the motorcycle shop directly below us as they were often unruly and loud. However, I soon realised that this was different.

5 "Quick! Remove the motorcycles from the shop!" someone yelled. Then, a burning smell filled the air. When I opened the front door to investigate, a thick cloud of smoke greeted me. The motorcycle shop had caught fire!

Mother hurried to the living room. We rushed out of the door and were heading to the stairway when Mother stopped in her tracks. She turned around and headed back the way we came.

10 She had suddenly remembered the frail Chinese lady who lived next door to us. Mother began banging on her door but to no avail. As the smoke thickened around us, I could see many of our neighbours scurry for safety.

"She would have run for safety like everyone else!" I cried. However, Mother refused to give up, even though I could see the panic in her eyes.

15 "I know she's still inside as she always takes an afternoon nap after lunch," she said. "Go, Shaji! Go!" Frozen with fear, I stood rooted to the spot. Just as we were beginning to suffocate, the door opened. The old lady stood there, looking perplexed.

Grabbing her hand, Mother led her downstairs to a safe spot. When the old lady comprehended the gravity of the situation, she was filled with gratitude.

Mother had become a hero in our eyes.

SECTION F: COMPREHENSION ( 5 X 2m = 10 marks )

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Kristen and Susan were feeling bored and decided to go to the one place their mother had told them never to go. Giggling, they took little shuffling steps and sat on the frozen river. Minutes later, they heard a loud crack.

5 Kristen spun around and scrambled back to safety. To her horror, Susan crashed through the ice, her round, dimpled face disappearing into the depths of the water.

"Susan, can you reach my hand?" cried Kristen. Now, she would have given anything to go back up the hill and never come down.

10 All of a sudden, the ice broke under Kristen! She fell into the river but managed to grab a solid ledge of the ice, holding on until a man and his dog loomed above her. The man lifted her out, set her down and told her to wait at the bridge above.

15 Kristen nodded and then, she gasped, "Where's my sister?" Frantic, the man looked around and spotted a bright red T-shirt and pink leggings half a kilometre downriver. He and his dog started running along the river bank but she was about 1.5m from the edge and the current was carrying her along like a log.

20 The man threw the dog's leash at Susan but it was not long enough. He decided to tie the leash around Rocky and command it to swim to her. Rocky loved the cold. He once dug a snow cave to play in when it was - 46.1° C. He was the girl's only hope.

25 The dog leapt into the river and swiftly paddled against the current towards Susan. He nudged the girl to take his leash. When she did not take it, he pushed her with his paw as if to say, "Come on. We're running out of time." The girl grabbed the leash feebly and the dog pulled her ashore.
