Section I – Comprehension 1

Read the passage below and answer questions 35 to 42.

(8 marks)

One night, Wolf had a terrible cold and was sneezing. He wanted to bake a cake but realised that he did not have enough flour. The nearest supermarket was very far away, so he decided to borrow some from his neighbours, the pigs, instead. With a candle in his hand to light the way, Wolf left his home.

Wolf arrived at Big Brother Pig's straw house and knocked on the front door. That was when he felt a sneeze rising. "ACHOO!" went Wolf. The sneeze was so huge that the straw house was blown away! Big Brother Pig was so shocked that he grabbed his belongings and ran to Second Brother Pig's home. Wolf felt guilty for giving Big Brother Pig a rude shock, so he ran after him to explain himself.

Wolf was panting when he arrived at Second Brother Pig's hay cottage. He placed the candle on the ground and held onto his nose. Suddenly, a burning smell rose into the air. The cottage made of hay had caught fire! The two terrified pigs dashed out of the cottage and sprinted as fast as they could to Third Brother Pig's home.

This time, Wolf felt truly sorry about what had happened. He did not mean to cause so much trouble. He followed the pigs to Third Brother Pig's home. Just as he was reaching there, he saw the police outside the home. Unfortunately, before Wolf could explain himself, the policemen handcuffed him and threw him into jail.

Wolf could not figure out how he had landed himself in jail. Yet, that was how he got his nickname 'The Big Bad Wolf'.

Section J – Comprehension 2

Read the passage below and answer questions 43 to 48.

(8 marks)

“A lipstick? Or maybe a new dress so she can look pretty?” Jim suggested. I thought for a while and shook my head. My mother was a baker and would definitely not find any of the items Jim had suggested useful.

Just as I walked away feeling worried, a great idea struck me. I can bake her a cake! I remembered my mother baking in the kitchen when I was younger. She had never allowed me to go near the oven as she was afraid that I would hurt myself.

I got to work quickly, putting together all the ingredients in a big bowl. After a quick mix, I slid the mixture into the oven. I looked at my watch and decided to take a rest.

“Ling, are you home?” my mother’s voice rang in my ears. My eyes flew open in shock. “How long had I been sleeping?” I thought as I sprinted to the front door. “Happy Birthday, Mom!” I greeted her with a big hug.

“What’s that smell?” she asked with a confused look on her face. The cake! I rushed back into the kitchen and flung the oven door open.

Tears welled up in my eyes. It was too late. My gift was destroyed.

In between sobs, I saw my mother taking the cake out of the oven with her mittens. She cut a small slice and popped it into her mouth.

“Wow! Best cake I have ever had!” she said. I wiped my tears away and looked at her. She smiled sweetly at me. She had never looked prettier.
