Gina, let's ask James to join us in this competition. He took part in the 'Plane which Flies the Longest Distance' category last year and he came in first.

Great idea, Hafiz! We can take part in the same category he won last year so that we can tap into his experience.

Your Task

Imagine you are Hafiz.

Write an email to your classmate, James, to ask him to join the Paper Plane Competition 2025 with Gina and you.

You are to refer to the picture and information on page 2 for your email. The bullet point underlined below requires you to come up with your own information.

In your email, include the following key information:

- the date and venue of the competition
- the category that you are interested in and the time
- registration fee for this category
- two reasons why he should participate in the competition.
- one way the three of you can prepare for the competition

You may reorder the points. Remember to write in complete sentences.

Subject: Join Gina and me for the Paper Plane Competition 2025!

Hi James,

Gina and I were discussing the upcoming Paper Plane Competition 2025, and we thought it would be fantastic if you could join us! The competition will be held on 15 June 2025 at the Innovation Centre. We are interested in participating in the "Plane which Flies the Longest Distance" category, which will take place from 10:30 am to 12:00 pm.

The registration fee for this category is $5 per person, which is a small price to pay for the fun and excitement of competing. There are two reasons why I think you should participate in the competition with us: firstly, you have experience in this category, having won it last year, and your expertise would be invaluable to our team. Secondly, it would be a great opportunity for us to learn from each other and work together to design and fold the perfect paper plane.

One way the three of us can prepare for the competition is by meeting up weekly to practice folding different paper plane designs and testing their flight distances. We can take turns trying out new designs and sharing our findings with each other, which will help us to refine our technique and increase our chances of winning.

I think we could make a great team, and I would love for you to join us. Let me know if you're interested and available, and we can start making plans for the competition.

Best regards,

Hafiz
